9 C.F.R. § 3.17(d) Care in transit.
(d) Except during the cleaning of primary enclosures, as required in § 3.14(b) of this subpart, during transportation in commerce a dog or cat must not be removed from its primary enclosure, unless it is placed in another primary enclosure or facility that meets the requirements of § 3.6 or § 3.14 of this subpart.

> You removed a dog from its primary enclosure and failed to place it into another primary enclosure. At approximately 8:15am Air Canada accepted for shipment an Italian greyhound "Larry" from San Francisco International Airport (SFO) to Victoria, Canada (Waybill 014-9124135). The flight was originally scheduled to depart SFO at 11:15am; however, the flight was delayed and subsequently cancelled at 1:30pm. At approximately 5:30pm a cargo customer service agent attempted to give the greyhound water and exercise as well as clean his kennel, but after she removed the dog from its primary enclosure it was able to slip through its collar and escape her control. The dog was later struck by a car and transported to an animal hospital where it was euthanized due to its injuries.
